WeatherSure Systems, Inc. expertise was really put to the test for this project. Combining roofing, waterproofing, plumbing, architectural metals and concrete, WeatherSure's across the board weatherproofing expertise was needed to provide the Logan Condominium HOA with the long term solution they desired. Other contractor's less comprehensive attempts had failed due to the lack of a total weatherproofing solution.

Once the new Carlisle system was in place, the Owner was able to install a new concrete patio deck that will provide years of enjoyment for the buildings occupants. The final project is now ready to take on Colorado's weather extremes.
