Every Property Manager has his or her share of stories about phone calls that are weird or worse. How about when the fire department calls to say that your roof is blocking the street?

Strong winds stripped the roof covering from the building on Forge Road, in the shadow of Pike's Peak. With rain coming later in the day, it could have been a disaster- but WeatherSure was onsite within hours, installing a temporary roof to keep the tenants dry, and completed the installation of a new roof within 5 days.
