When the June 2004 hail storm was finished, numerous PVC single ply roofs had failed. Safeway's Store #1145 in Denver was one of the catastrophes. WeatherSure mobilized to provide a protective temporary roof cover until the new system could be installed. The choice of the FiberTite XT by Seaman Corp. met the Owner's needs and provides proven and warrantable performance against future hail storm damage. With applications over 20 years old in the Denver area, WeatherSure knows that it can rely on FiberTite to meet its client needs.

Electronic heat welding of all seams on the FiberTite system ensures long term protection for our clients' weatherproofing needs. Daily inspections and probing during construction is a part of WeatherSure's high standard of project quality control.
